Now before the Court is a stipulation to modify the case schedule set on January 9, 2023. Docket No. 225. The Court is not inclined to modify the trial date currently set for January 27, 2025. The Court's tentative schedule is below. The parties may stipulate to modify the tentative case deadlines so long as the trial date is not modified and (1) there are at least four weeks between the filing date for Defendants' reply in support of their cross-dispositive motion and related Daubert motions and the hearing on all dispositive motions and related Daubert motions; (2) there are at least six weeks between the pretrial conference and the first day of trial; and (3) motions in limine are not filed later than November 22, 2024, oppositions to motions in limine are not filed later than December 6, 2024, and there is at least one week between the filing date for oppositions to motions in limine and the pretrial conference.

The Court added deadlines for filing replies in support of the Daubert motions relating to class certification. Each opening brief in support of a Daubert motion relating to class certification shall not exceed twenty pages; each opposition to a Daubert motion relating to class certification shall not exceed twenty pages; and each reply in support of a Daubert motion relating to class certification shall not exceed ten pages. The Court also added page limits for the briefing in connection with dispositive motions.

1 The Court intends to order the parties to engage in settlement discussions. Within fourteen
 2 days of the date this order is filed, the parties shall file a joint statement reporting on the efforts
 3 they have made and propose to make toward a partial or full settlement of the claims in this action.
